- i) A newspaper, the character and volume of coverage required, and the service limitations of the publicity Department, or official sources, will be taken into account. Normally any newspaper, including a newspaper published from more than one centre, will be entitled to one accredited correspondent only. However, accreditation will be granted to a maximum of six correspondents and one photographer, subject to the condition that wherever necessary, not more than one accredited correspondent, and one photographer, would claim facilities for presence at any function.
- ii) A news or feature agency may be granted a maximum of six accreditations at the Headquarters of the State.

Effect of accreditation

15. Accreditation does not confer any official status on a correspondent. Government merely recognises that one accredited correspondent represents the newspaper or news agency which employs him. Correspondents should not have letterheads and visiting cards with the words «Accredited to the Government of Goa, Daman and Diu».

Accreditation is personal

16. Accreditation is personal and not transferable.

Accreditation card for press representatives

17. Accreditation card bearing a passport size photograph of the Press representatives will be issued to an accredited representative. Review of the list of accredited press representatives

19. The list of accredited representatives will be reviewed periodically by the Committee, ordinarily once in every six months.

Renewal of accreditation

20. Accreditation may be renewed from year to year on a request from the editor, the manager, the correspondent, photographer or cartoonist representing any newspaper, news agency, feature agency, news photo agency, broadcasting concern or television, without any other formality provided rules and conditions are properly met.

Accreditation in emergent cases

21. On the recommendation of any two members of the Committee the Government can issue accreditation to a correspondent, photographer or cartoonist representing any newspaper, news agency, feature agency, photo-agency, broadcasting concern or television, in emergent cases, if there is hardly any time for making reference to the Committee. All such cases, however, shall be reported to the next meeting of the Committee.

Withdrawal of accreditation of press representatives

22. A correspondent will be liable to disaccreditation if:

- a) he uses information and facilities accorded to him for non-journalistic purposes;
- b) in the course of his duties as correspondent, he behaves in an undignified or unprofessional manner;
- c) he ignores or violates the conditions on which information and facilities are provided by Government, or acts contrary to any provisions of these rules;
- d) he causes wilful publication of news that is incorrect or false, in so far as Government are concerned. But in case the newspaper itself is responsible and not the accredited press representatives for the wilful publication of false malafide or incorrect reports, or abuse of confidence, the newspaper concerned will be liable to disaccreditation.

Notice of termination of accreditation of a press representative

23. When an accredited correspondent, photographer or cartoonist ceases to represent a newspaper, a news agency, a feature agency, a photo agency, a broadcasting concern or television on behalf of which he is accredited, the fact should be brought to the notice of the Director, in writing by the correspondent, or by the Editor, or the Manager concerned, within fifteen days. Failing this, the matter may be reported to the Committee by the Director for necessary action.

24. Action under Rule 22 will be taken by the Director on the advice of the Committee after the matter has been reported to the editor of the newspaper, or the Editor or Manager of the news agency, feature agency, news photo-agency, broadcasting concern or television and after the party concerned has been given a reasonable opportunity to be heard by the Committee.

Continuous absence from the headquarters

25. An accredited correspondent who is continuously absent for three months from the Headquarters shall forfeit his accreditation. This period may be extended by three months more on a written request from the Editor or the Manager concerned.

Representation against decision

26. Newspapers, agencies and correspondents can make a representation to the Committee for review against any decision taken under the provisions of these rules. Such representations should reach the Committee within two calendar months from the date on which the decision in question was communicated to the newspaper, agency or correspondent concerned.
